Distinguished Colleagues:

The American Academy of Anti-Aging Medicine looks forward to having you at our 20th Annual World Congress in Las Vegas. We appreciate your support. As pioneers in Anti-Aging medicine, our conferences offer a wide educational exposure to doctors not only locally and regionally, but also internationally. This serves the interest of both our company and you, to have the opportunity to attend lectures, practical workshops, and have a direct interaction with the latest technology and information in a straightforward face-to-face approach.

Anti-Aging medicine is a wellness-oriented model of advanced clinical preventive medicine. This innovative medical specialty is achieving demonstrable and objective results that beneficially impact the degenerative diseases of aging. Thousands of physicians and practitioners in private medical offices, as well as at some of the most prestigious teaching hospitals around the world, now embrace the anti-aging medical model. Anti-aging medicine is transforming healthcare, one practice at a time. By attending this Congress, you are part of this transformation, and we applaud you for joining this fast-growing movement.

With warm regards,

Ronald Klatz, MD, DO
President, A4M

Robert Goldman, MD, PhD, DO, FAASP
Chairman, A4M

Course Description:
Anti-Aging and Regenerative Biomedical Technologies conference is an opportunity to present practicing physicians and health care professionals with reports on breaking technologies from fields of clinical medicine focused on the prevention and early intervention of aging related disease processes. In addition the Conference is an opportunity to highlight new medical techniques from around the world that can have an impact in the early detection, prevention, treatment of aging related disorders and regenerative medicine.

At the conclusion of this activity, the attendee can expect to be able to:

- Develop a clinical presentation and understanding of validated biomarkers that prove methylation deficiency
- Discuss the proper staging of insulin resistance and its relation to inflammation and cardiovascular disease
- Explore how using functional brain imaging tools improves diagnoses and opens a new world of understanding and hope for many patients who suffer
- Discuss the uses of DBS and critically evaluate its clinical utility for treatment of PD tremors and other movement disorders
- Understand the relationship between intestinal barrier function and autoimmune diseases
- Discuss and review the link between food, activation of the immune system, chronic inflammation, neuro-endocrine-immune disruption and complex chronic disease
- Discuss Tocotrienol in Cancer Applications
The Medical Educator Consortium

The Medical Educator Consortium, is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Hours:

The Medical Educator Consortium, designates this educational activity for a maximum of 27 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

“This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education through the joint sponsorship of MEC and A4M. The MEC is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.”

Faculty Disclosure Statement

The Medical Educator Consortium (MEC) adheres to the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support. All persons that will be in a position to control the content of the CME Activity are required to disclosure all relevant financial Relationships. Faculty disclosure forms outlining this information will be made available to all participants prior to educational Activity. MEC has also implemented a mechanism to identify and resolve all conflicts of interest prior to the education activity being delivered to learners. The source of all support from commercial interests will also be disclosed to learners prior to the beginning of the educational activity.
