

Melanie Parsons, CEO, has been supplying trocars and trocar kits since 2006. During this time she has listened to customer feedback and expanded their inventory. Trocar Supplies currently stocks 38 different products and has everything necessary for their customers' pellet insertion needs. They are excited to announce they will be rolling out new and innovative products in the near future. These products include a diamond-tip all metal trocar tray and a long shaft reusable instrument.

Trocar Supplies currently stocks two designs for the metal trocar. The original design, Trocar Supplies top seller, includes a 5.2mm trocar. The new design comes with a 7.3mm Trocar and a longer needle for deeper anesthetic application. Trocar supplies also carries a wide range of trocars from 2.8mm 12.2mm and has the ability of custom product manufacturing.

Trocar Supplies always has the user in mind when it comes to their products. Not only do they have two different designs for the metal trocar, they also have two different ways the trocar kits can be packaged. Per the user's preference, you can now choose between the original deep open tray where components are layered in order of use or a new peel-top tray where all components are easily accessible in a single layer. Their newest procedure kit includes a Benzoin tincture vial, an extra needle, and a large tegaderm.

Trocar Supplies is currently registered in the United States, Canada, Brazil, Argentina, and is looking to expand into the European Market.
